For example, you can submit a receipt issued by Wawa, a printed bank or credit card statement, a screen shot from a bank or credit card company website or mobile app, or another document that verifies the date of the transaction and that it was at a Wawa store or fuel pump. (You may block out or cover up unrelated transactions and your account number.)

Reasonable forms of proof of an actual or attempted fraudulent transaction may include a screen shot, photocopy, PDF, or photo of a bank or credit card statement showing that your bank or credit card company refused or reversed a transaction that occurred on the same account, a police report of a reported fraudulent transaction, email or other correspondence to or from the bank or credit card company about a fraudulent transaction, or any other reasonable documentation that demonstrates that there was an actual or attempted fraudulent transaction on the same account after the Wawa transaction you documented in Section A above.

Examples: Out-of-pocket expenses may include, but are not limited to, actual money spent or lost because of unreimbursed fraud charges, bank fees, replacement card fees, late fees from transactions with third parties that were delayed due to fraud or card replacements, credit freeze fees, parking expenses or transportation expenses for trips to a financial institution to address fraudulent charges or receive a replacement payment card, and other expenses reasonably attributable to the Data Security Incident.

Reasonable proof of out-of-pocket damages may include a receipt, bank statement or credit card statement, screen shot from a bank account or credit card account, email or other correspondence with a merchant or vendor, or any other reasonable form of documentary proof that establishes the existence, date and amount of actual out-of-pocket monetary damages reasonably attributable to the Data Security Incident.
